London W11
Sold

Ladbrooke Grove III

A rare opportunity to purchase a wonderfully bright one-bedroom apartment with balcony on the third floor of this landmark 1930s block in Notting Hill. Number 65 Ladbrooke Grove was designed by the great British architect Edwin Maxwell Fry in collaboration with Walter Gropius, the founder of the Bauhaus. It is one of the finest surviving Modernist buildings in London, and is Grade II-listed.

The apartment measures approximately 549 sq ft internally, and includes a reception room with access to a balcony with south-westerly aspect, kitchen, bathroom and double bedroom. The reception room, bedroom and balcony all have beautiful views over trees and gardens towards the period houses on Lansdowne Crescent. The kitchen is in largely original condition.

The building has a live-in porter, lift access and glorious communal gardens. There are three residents' parking bays for use on a first-come first-served basis. The block contains just 17 flats, which come up for sale very rarely; this particular apartment has been in the same ownership for many years.
