

THE MODERN HOUSE

Notting Hill, London W2
Sold

Northumberland Place

Located on one of the finest streets in Notting Hill, this substantial terraced house with off-street parking combines early-Victorian elegance with exciting modern living spaces. The property is currently being renovated to an exemplary design by Undercover Architecture, with completion due in summer / autumn 2014.

Undercover's design is sympathetic to the house's rich history, seeking to enhance its classical features – such as full-height French doors and high ceilings – while adding the modern conveniences and quality of finish expected of a high-end dwelling in this location. As well as restoration work and a reorganisation of the interior layouts, the creation of a new basement with a home gym and sauna and a mansard extension add 127sqm to the house, bringing an impressive total of 332 sq m (3,550 sq ft) over six floors. Add to this a patio parking area in front of the property and enclosed courtyard garden at the rear, and the result is a fantastically generous family home.
