Union Wharf IV

Inside, structural concrete sections and exposed galvanised steel conduits create a pronounced tactility against fresh white walls throughout. The front door opens onto a central hallway, oak floorboards flow from here into a large, openplan living and dining space. Natural light pours deep into the apartment care of floor-to-ceiling windows that span the rear elevation. Oak steps lead up to a balcony overlooking the exuberant greenery that envelops Wenlock Basin. A slightly raised area just off the living space provides a versatile space for a study or guest bedroom.

A fully integrated kitchen occupies the one end of the apartment. A blue-tiled splashback sits between a solid timber worktop and extensive white cabinetry, echoing the cool tones of the concrete running the length of the wall opposite.

Adjacent to the living space is a well-proportioned double bedroom with a feature wall of palm leaf-patterned wallpaper. An oak step at the rear sits beneath floor-toceiling windows overlooking the balcony and canal below. A recently instated walk-in wardrobe provides ample storage.

A spacious bathroom sits off the central hallway, where black ceramic tiles underfoot create a striking contrast with an aqua coloured sink top. A useful storage cupboard is concealed in the hallway.

Outdoor Space

A set of galvanised-steel frame doors at the rear of the living space opens onto a west-facing balcony that runs along the width of the apartment. There is space for planters and a table and chairs to enjoy views of lime, silver birch and oak trees on Wenlock Basin, an inner canal which can only be accessed by the surrounding residents.

The Area

The building is excellently located next to the Regent's Canal towpath, which leads towards Angel in one direction and Victoria Park in the other. Significant redevelopment and investment is taking place around City Road Basin and Old Street's 'Silicon Roundabout', an attractive area for tech companies and creative talent from around the world.

Towpath and The Baring in De Beauvoir Town are reachable in 15 minutes along the canal. The Victoria Miro is just around the corner and the Almeida Theatre is a 20minute walk away. The shops, bars and restaurants of Upper Street and Islington are just 10 minutes north, where local favourites include The Duke of Cambridge, Earl of Essex and Afghan Kitchen, as well as Pophams and Jolene bakeries. The cultural hubs of Hoxton and Shoreditch are both within a 20-minute walk to the east.

Wenlock Road borders Shepherdess Walk Park and is conveniently positioned for easy access to the city. Both Angel and Old Street stations are under a 20-minute walk, providing access to Northern Line services.
