Wells House I

“We will deliberately create exhilaration” Berthold Lubetkin

A rare three-bedroom ex-Local Authority flat with west-facing balcony on the sought-after Spa Green Estate in Clerkenwell. Built in 1949 to a design by the renowned Modernist architect Berthold Lubetkin, the estate has been given a prestigious Grade II* listing by English Heritage in recognition of its architectural significance.

The flat is located on the third floor of Wells House (there is lift access). It has three double bedrooms, a bathroom and separate WC, a reception room with access to the balcony, and a kitchen which retains some of the original units. The flat has timber floors, including original parquet in the bedrooms, with quarry tiles in the kitchen and bathroom. The heating and hot water are run off a communal system and included in the service charge.

Conceived as public housing, the Spa Green Estate has a mixture of council tenants and private owners. It was the subject of an exemplary refurbishment in 2008 that restored the original colour scheme, which recalls Lubetkin's contacts with Russian Constructivism.

The Spa Green Estate occupies a site between Rosebery Avenue and St John Street. It is within a short walk of Angel Underground station (Northern Line), as well as the shops, restaurants and pubs of Islington and Clerkenwell. There are local buses to the West End, the City and Waterloo. Exmouth Market and Amwell Street have many good bars, restaurants and independent shops. There are several small parks in the area, including Middleton Square, Spa Fields and St James' Church Garden.

Tenure: Leasehold Lease: 125 years from 25th March 1983 (approx. 93 years remaining) Freeholder: Islington Council Service charge: approx. £2,000 per year (includes heating and hot water, ground rent and general estate repairs including lighting, entryphone, management fee, lift maintenance)
