Sold

White Lodge

This large Modern house (approximately 2,200 sq ft in size) is located in a quiet corner of South East London and was designed by the renowned architect Joyce Lowman. It is a 5-bedroom property with a good-sized garden, two reception rooms, a garage and large, light spaces throughout. Although now in need of some updating, many of the best original features remain.

The house is one of a pair designed by Lowman in 1971, the other smaller one (sold by The Modern House in 2011) for Lowman's own occupation and this one for a favoured client. Intelligently working with a sloping site, Lowman has created a series of south-facing spaces that create an exciting internal layout, a level garden and a first floor balcony from which far-reaching views towards Biggin Hill and Surrey beyond can be enjoyed. For more on Lowman please see the HISTORY section.

Accommodation in the house includes five bedrooms, a kitchen, dining room and living room. There is also a further reception room (with kitchen area) on the first floor. There is a garage and a private, level, lawned garden to the side of the house.

The house can be found on White Lodge, a peaceful cul-de-sac in an elevated position that offers far-reaching views. The house is short distance to central Crystal Palace, Streatham and West Norwood, all of which have a good range of shops, pubs, restaurants and other amenities. Local transport links include Gipsy Hill, West Norwood and Norbury Stations (National Rail) and Crystal Palace Station (East London Line).

THE MODERN HOUSE

About

The Modern House is an estate agency that helps people live in more thoughtful and beautiful ways. We believe in design as a powerful force for good. Inspired by the principles of modernism, we represent design-led homes across the UK which celebrate light, space and a truth to materials. Esquire credits The Modern House with “rewriting the rulebook on estate agency” and GQ voted us “one of the best things in the world”.
